Paraphrasing World Events

(By H. C.)

May 6th is the birthday of the writer of this column who takes this occasion to express his gratification at the enthusiastic manner in which it was celebrated not only in Canada but all over the British Empire.

Those rioters in Vancouver were anything but gentlemen adventurers trading in the Hudson Bay store.

To increase the price of pork Mr. Roosevelt destroyed a lot of hogs. He succeeded in raising the price of silver and gold without resorting to any such expedient.

The unemployment situation has been serious enough, but the employment problem becomes equally serious when one man willing to work has to receive police protection from the unemployed who are offered work and won't take it.

WEDDING

DOANE—CARR

A quiet wedding was solemnized in Champion on Wednesday, May 8 at 3 o'clock p.m. at the United Church manse, when Della Alice Carr and Mr. Orlo Leroy Doane, both of the Vulcan district, were united in marriage. Mrs. Willa Houlton and Mrs. Olive Douglas were witnesses at the ceremony. Rev. Peter Dawson officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Doane will reside on their farm north of Vulcan.

Nominees Selected at Little Bow Constituency Social Credit Convention

Sixty-five Delegates Attend Convention Held in Vulcan, Saturday

Rev. Peter Dawson of Champion, Mr. H. Allergoth of Milo, Rev. E. G. Hansel of Vulcan, and Mr. L. H. Irwin of Milo, were the four selections of the Social Credit nominating convention for the Little Bow provincial riding held in the Odd Fellows' hall, Vulcan, Saturday afternoon. From these four nominees, one will be chosen to represent the Social Credit party in the coming provincial election. The final selection lies with the central advisory committee. The four selected will meet with this committee at Lethbridge this week, and the candidate at that time will be chosen. However the final selection will not be announced until the date of the election is definitely set. The convention was attended by 65 delegates from practically every polling division in the constituency. Many visitors were present and the seating capacity of the hall taxed.

The convention opened at one p.m. with the singing of O Canada and the theme song. Minutes of the previous convention held in Vulcan were read and approved. A treasurer's report was given by Mr. H. Allergoth. This was approved. A report of the resolutions committee was given by Mr. R. D. Edgington. Rev. Peter Dawson presided as chairman of the convention.

The resolutions committee presented two resolutions to the meeting. A resolution requesting the nominations for candidate nominees be left open for thirty minutes, was carried. A resolution asking that Major Douglas give a radio address, making clear his stand on Social Credit in Alberta, was defeated. It was the opinion of the meeting that Major Douglas would have the use of the press and radio of the province on the occasion of his visit to Alberta, and that being in his position it would not be necessary for such an address.

The following names were brought before the convention for the balloting of the four nominees: Rev. P. Dawson, Champion; H. Allergoth, Milo; W. Gloer, Vulcan; Rev. E. G. Hansel, Vulcan; Geo. Wright, Barons; A. B. Webster, Carmangay; T. C. Robson, Vulcan; Dr. Leismer, Arrowwood; W. Oaler, Queenstown; and L. H. Irwin, Milo. The balloting took a good part of the afternoon, and resulted, as follows: Rev. Dawson, 58; L. H. Irwin, 53; H. Allergoth, 51; and Rev. Hansel, 47. After the balloting, the four nominees spoke to the assembly.

During the afternoon the delegates to the Southern Alberta Social Credit convention, held recently in Calgary, gave three minute impressions of the meeting. Due to the fact that two of the nominees, Rev. Dawson and Mr. Irwin, are delegates, new ones were selected. Messrs. Frendel and Troy were chosen. A. B. Webster of Carmangay was selected to take the place of Mr. McNaughton as a delegate. Mr. McNaughton resigned some time ago.

The convention closed with the singing of The King.

Members of the Vulcan W.I. spent Wednesday afternoon, May 8th, at the Vulcan Municipal Hospital helping with the mending of bedding and hospital dry goods.

LOCAL and DISTRICT GLEANINGS

Contributions Appreciated

The engagement of Jean Kathryn second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Gardiner, Champion, to Lawrence Michael Soper, of Vulcan, was announced last week. The marriage will take place shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Willard, Mrs. Robert Ferguson, and Mrs. Errett King are visitors in Edmonton this week attending the graduation exercises at the University of Alberta. Vulcan students graduating from their studies this term are Miss Marion Hartford and Harry Ferguson.

A regular meeting of the Young Men's British Israel Association was held in the Anglican Church basement last Sunday at 8 o'clock. Mr. H. Dorrington delivered the lecture. All interested are invited to attend these meetings, held every Sunday afternoon.

Nearly one thousand caragana trees have been set out by the Town of Vulcan in the new cemetery this year. The new portion of land is a two acre packet directly north of the original plots. Last fall the whole portion of land was enclosed with fencing, connecting it with the old. Grass seed was sown, and this with the caragana hedge will give beauty to the property.

Work of beautifying the town boulevards has been in progress for some time. Early, the trees were trimmed for proper growth. Many dead trees were unrooted and one hundred green ash trees from the Estevan Nurseries set out to take place of the old. Some were planted to further extend the boulevard planting program. Citizens, as in the last two years, are asked to take care of the trees in front of their property. Be sure to water the trees.

Prosperity chain letters have been received by many in Vulcan during the past week, and are becoming the topic for much discussion. This craze started in the United States, in the vicinity of Denver, and it is with this thought that we note most of the names on the letters that have been shown to the writer have United States addresses. This racket is quite new to Canada, and, before it gets a hold on the public, postal authorities are doing everything to discourage the practice. The practice of the operation through the mails is illegal, and it would be good advice to re-route all these letters to the person sending them.

A meeting of the members of the Vulcan Dramatic Society was held on Wednesday evening, May 8th at which the activities of the society were reviewed for the year. A report on the play recently presented was heard and contrary to expectations the society's funds were depleted instead of increased by the staging of the show. A statement of expenses and receipts from the two shows revealed that the society was unable to break even on the production. Expenses proved to be $3.00 more than the receipts. However the members of the society are undaunted and will continue to function, and already are making plans for an active program next season.

Mr. J. T. Willard received the sad communication of the death of his mother, Mrs. L. T. Willard, of Mankato, Minn., U.S.A., last week. She died on Monday, May 6th, at the age of 77 years. Besides her son at Vulcan, she leaves to mourn her passing two sons and two daughters. Sympathy of the entire community is extended to Mr. Willard on this occasion of bereavement. The late Mrs. Willard visited with her son in Vulcan during 1929, and during her stay of several months, became acquainted with many citizens who will remember her. During January of this year Mr. Willard of Vulcan visited with his mother at her home in Mankato, seeing her for the last time.

TOWN COUNCIL STRESSES SEIZURE OF CHATTELS

At the postponed meeting of the Vulcan Town Council from Monday evening, the councillors stressed the distress by seizure of chattels for arrears of taxes. This will be strictly enforced, and the same was passed as a motion at the meeting. Another item in the matter of collection of taxes was also brought out by motion. This was the enforcement of collection of rents on properties in arrears of taxes. The rent monies are to be paid directly to the town by the rental of such property in arrears of taxes.

All councillors were present for the meeting, and before the business of the meeting opened, Mayor King on behalf of the council expressed sympathy to Councillor J. T. Willard on the death of his mother.

An application for an old age pension was received from Mrs. Caruthers. This was recommended by the council. Mr. C. Ottewill interviewed the council on the matter of his arrears of business tax. He requested a reduction. The request was not granted.

Moved by Councillor Jamison that the rent on the Vulcan Hotel be set at $5.00 per month. Motion carried. Townsman Weale was requested to stress the payment of dog taxes to delinquent canine owners.

It was resolved that a sign be placed on the new town office.

Mr. E. M. Peterson was the lucky winner of $20.00 and Mrs. B. McGraw the winner of $10.00 in the Bank Night draw at the Vulcan theatre on Tuesday evening.

A new cistern for Vulcan's fire fighting system is in the course of construction in the centre of the elevator row, on the left hand side of the road. Excavation work has been completed, and the cribbing is now in place for the pouring of cement. The cistern, when completed will be 36 feet long, 18 feet wide and eight feet deep. It will hold 30,000 gallons of water for fire fighting purposes on the west side of town, giving protection to the line of nine elevators, the flour mill and residences bordering the west streets.

The Vulcan W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Peterson for their regular monthly meeting on Friday, May 10th, with an attendance of sixteen ladies. An interesting talk was given by Miss M. McLeod on "Hospital Work." Roll call was answered by giving garden hints. A short paper on the Life and Reign of King George V. was delivered by Mrs. J. Marshall, after which all joined in singing God Save the King. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Naylor, where it is expected that Mrs. Hagermann, constituency convener, will be present.

During the week every subscriber to The Vulcan Advocate in arrears of subscription received through the mails a statement of their account. No doubt the sum to you may seem large, perhaps small, but several hundred of these accounts were mailed, and this makes the total sum run into hundreds of dollars, so your payment would be greatly appreciated. If you can't pay all, pay some, we would like to help you get your subscription account squared up. But we can't do this unless you call in and talk it over with us. Drop in the next time you are around our way.

The regular meeting of the Berrywater U.F.W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. V. Adair on Wednesday, May 8th, six members and three visitors being present. Mrs. H. Amey acted as chairman. After routine business and correspondence, plans were discussed for a reunion of old and new members. Mrs. Amey kindly offered to write the invitations, the number to total about seventy. A well prepared paper by Mrs. D. B. Sims, "World Peace," was read by Mrs. F. Mensinger, and a lively discussion followed. Roll call was answered by each member giving some small item on peace conditions in other countries. After the adjournment of the meeting, the hostess served a dainty lunch.

THE HORNBY SCHEME

General Hornby's plan for organized migration of selected British families to Canada, has many points to recommend it. In the preparation of the plan, the most obvious weaknesses of past immigration have been avoided. The proposed settlers would be financed entirely by the British government, and careful supervision would continue for some years. Again, only those born to the land and adaptable, would be selected, with the responsibility for their fitness laid definitely upon the counties from which they came. Britain, having money available and earmarked for such a type of overseas settlement, is in a responsible state of mind for any definite demonstration of approval from Canada.

One gathers from General Hornby that it is not the intention to open up new land in isolated areas, but rather to make use of the facilities and services already in operation in Canada, by settlement in communities already served by railroads, schools, etc. This fact makes the scheme significant to many mixed farming areas of Canada, where land is available. It is observed that many large landowners would willingly dispose of a portion of their farms, contenting themselves with better farming on a smaller scale. Because of this, it might be possible to secure the required land for settlement in almost any old settled area. Another advantage of this type of settlement would be that no new land would be thrown open for excess production.

It is also understood that the colonizing would not necessarily be restricted to one solid block of land. It would be necessary that the settlers be placed reasonably near each other, because of convenience in supervising. But a solid colony is neither necessary, nor even desirable. It is the intention that these people should become Canadianized as quickly and permanently as possible, and this could best be realized by contact with Canadian neighbors customs and general atmosphere. One of the difficulties of British colonization schemes in the past, has been the unadaptability of a certain type of English, and a certain unassimilable quality which benefits neither themselves nor Canada.

One feature of the proposal which seems over optimistic, is the expectation that these first settlers would be able to purchase land of their own in a few years, leaving the original holding as a home for new arrivals. That is to say, the British government would retain ownership in the land as an investment, and after a period of years the settler would be in a position to purchase land of his own. It is doubtful if returns from mixed farming would be sufficiently generous to warrant this expectation, unless loans or similar further assistance could be obtained from the British Government. The settlers might become self-sustaining in a comparatively short while, but they would be unlikely to accomplish any more than the experienced Canadian farmer, who at best is only able to "hold his own" under current conditions.

However, these details are still somewhat vague in their provisions. In its essentials, General Hornby's plan has sufficient good points to recommend it to the consideration of all farm organizations.

FRONTIER SENTINELS

There has been quite a flutter in newspapers recently, through the news of American air bases being established along the region of the Great Lakes. The discussions of members of the United States war department, apparently got into the news, without any particular justification, and a few apprehensive souls chose to regard the proposed air bases as an affront to the unguarded frontier between Canada and United States. President Roosevelt, and leading papers of United States were quick to express unwavering friendship with Canada and to deplore that a military conversation should take on such prominence.

Whatever alarmists might choose to make of the establishment of American air bases along the Great Lakes or other parts of the five thousand miles of undefended border, it would take small effect on the average Canadian or average American. It would seem about as reasonable for Alberta and Ontario to enter into war, as for Canada and United States. If United States, were to carry out some military scheme of air bases along the border—not too many of them of course—the probability is that adjacent Canadians would view them merely as another "point of interest" to visit on sight seeing expeditions. Any idea that it was an affront to Canadians would be very slow to sink in—because it would not be intended. Even if American militarists suddenly went mad, the millions of American people would still be our very good relatives and friends.

Some authority stated recently that there were 15,000,000 Canadians in United States. This seems incredible in face of the fact that Canada's own population is only 10,000,000. But for the past hundred years in almost every Canadian family, several members have "gone to the States." Almost invariably their adopted country has been good to them, and they have in course of time become loyal Americans. There are many native Canadians in high positions of all sorts in United States. In the last thirty years or more there has been a corresponding influx of Americans to the Canadian West, and they in turn have become naturalized Canadians. This inter-weaving of the two countries has established a foundation fabric that is not going to be torn asunder. It is a permanent relationship that will weather and has weathered many a disrupting influence.

When two nations enjoy the same kind of jokes, read the same magazines and books, listen to the same speakers, carry on under the same customs; dress alike and talk alike; when they are bound by ties of kinship and congeniality, they are not going to involve themselves in any serious disagreement. They are not going to be over sensitive in looking for affronts. They are going to continue their cheerful friendly relationship, each looking upon the other country as a "second home."

GOOD WILL DAY

May eighteenth is observed by sixty-eight countries of the world as Good Will Day. It is the anniversary of the first official Peace Conference held at the Hague in 1899, and it was in 1922 that observance of the anniversary was introduced first into the schools of Wales. From that country the idea spread to other countries, and as a result, school children in the majority of countries, turn their attention on this official Good Will Day, to the folk of other lands. On that day national glorification is submerged in a study of the contribution made by other nations to the advancement of the world. Amongst lessons learned, is the interdependence of all as well as achievements of others in science, discoveries, art and learning. Anything which may bring about a better understanding of the customs and convictions of other nationalities, is fostered on this day, and anything which develops a more international outlook is encouraged.

Unfortunately, the adult world has made small headway in the practice of international goodwill. Since 1922 it has been piling up barriers of misunderstanding and distrust. It is difficult for children to develop as they should under the spirit of extreme nationalism which dominates their elders.

World trade has been steadily reduced, even though all nations are losers thereby. The armament race moves on apace, at incredible expense to all nations. This in spite of the fact that the same money applied to the improvement of social conditions, would create a serenity of mind that would go far toward removing the war spirit, bred of unhappiness and frustration.

It seems of little avail for school children to be instructed in international goodwill, unless adult example bears out these teachings. But the idea fostered in the schools may eventually bear fruit in actual living.

BRING DOWN CAPITALIZATION

The Lethbridge Herald approvingly records action of the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation. The Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation has effected changes in its capitalization which, due to the national importance of this industry, should have a widespread favorable effect.

In 1928, Besco, the predecessor company, had securities outstanding to the extent of $132 million of which $36 million was in bonds. Today the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation has a capitalization of but $30 million of which $12 million is bonded debt.

Such a readjustment in a capitalization has a beneficial as well as financial effect. Employees see that the security holders have had their holdings scaled down; the management can afford to improve plant and equipment; the corporation has been placed on a better competitive basis; and in the end the holders of securities also benefit. In brief, the corporation has been placed in a position in which it can make money—and spend it. Business generally, particularly in the Maritimes, is bound to feel the favorable repercussions from the improved position of this company.

The Herald comments: "This puts the finger on the spot. The rigging of the capitalization of so many Canadian companies is, in truth, one of the sore spots with the people. Besco of 1928, with $132,000,000 capitalization, on which it was trying to earn a dividend, is the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation of today with $30,000,000 capitalization. Six per cent on the former sum would require $7,820,000 surplus of earnings over all other costs. Under present capitalization only $1,800,000 would be required to pay a fair return on capitalization. Quite a difference.

"What the public would like to know is how many industrial concerns in Canada are crying for high tariffs to pay dividends upon a capitalization which has no relationship either to the actual invested capital or to the value of the company's plant."

MY DEBT TO MY TOWN

"My town owes me nothing. If accounts were balanced at this date, I would be the debtor. Haven't I, all these years lived within the limits of the town and shared all its benefits? Haven't I had the benefits of its schools and churches? Haven't I had the use of its parks and public places? Haven't I had the protection of its fire, police and health departments? Haven't its people, during all this time, been gathering for me from the four corners of the earth, food for my table, clothing for my body and material for my home?"

"Hasn't my town furnished the patronage by which I have succeeded in my business? Hasn't it furnished the best friends of my life, whose ideals have been my inspiration, whose kind words have been my cheer, and whose helpfulness has carried me over the greatest difficulties. What will I give in return? Not simply the taxes which cover so small a part of what I have received. I want to give more; I want, of my own free will, to give enough that I can rightfully say, 'This is my town,' so that I can take pride in my town, so that I can take pride in its prosperity, in the honors which come to its citizens, and all that make it greater and better.

"I can do this only by becoming a part of the town—by giving to it generously of myself. In this way only can I, even in small part, pay the great debt I owe to my town."

THE STATE

That a tremendous number of people have been forced to rely on the State for the means of living is a distressing fact of which we are all painfully aware. That a shockingly large number have become or are becoming confirmed in the habit of doing so is a depressing thought which Senator Meighen left with us in his speech at London, Ontario. He impressed upon us that we cannot lift from the shoulders of any man the responsibility of making his way in life. Never must we pursue a policy that he might think a great parent was looking after him. There is a vast number who are beginning to think that work is over. They have found a way of living on other people. The future depends on the fact that man must work and earn equal to his capacity."

Yet the State can and should make its contribution toward satisfying that will to work; and the sooner and more adequately the State so contributes the sooner we shall know who are the idlers and who the industrious. —Morning Albertan.

ROYALITE WILL PAY NEW DIVIDEND

On June 7, to Pay 75 cts. a Share
Making Fourteenth Payment to Shareholders

Payment of a 75 cent dividend to shareholders of the Royalite company June 7, will bring the total distribution in the history of the company, up to that date, to $3,685,923.

This figure may be increased if Spooner shareholders approve the deal whereby Spooner wells would be sold for 8,300 shares of Royalite stock before May 23 when the Royalite transfer books will be closed.

The forthcoming dividend will be the fourteenth issued by the Royalite company and the first in 1935. Last year two dividends, the first of 50 cts. and the second of 75 cts. were paid.

The financial statement showing large profits in 1934 and reports of continued large production at Royalite No. 26, the company's new well, gave the few shareholders who attended the annual meeting of Royalite cause for satisfaction.

HUMOR IN THE ADS

The unconscious humor of some advertisements is indicated in the following selections:

Lost: A pound note by a working girl tied in a knot.

Wanted: A capable housekeeper able to milk cows, to keep house for one.

Lost: A fountain pen by a man half full of ink.

For sale: Bulldog, will eat anything; very fond of children.

Lost: A watch by a man with a cracked face.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Would you kindly print the following in your paper, Thursday.

According to the London Evening Post, a statue of Mussolini is being secretly made in Rome. When finished it will be greater in size than the legendary Colossus of Rhodes, which is among the seven wonders of the world. It is to be the biggest statue Rome ever saw, even greater than the figure of Nero which gave the Coliseum its name. It will be 213 feet high. The moulding of this figure is being done in special sheds and jealously guarded. The thighs and torso of Mussolini will be swathed in lion's skin and with an 80 foot arm raised in Fascist salute over Rome. The head is 30 feet high and as large as a house. Work on the statue has been going on for some time and will require another year for completion. It will be the largest statue in the world, being 62 feet higher than the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor. Thus "the image of the beast" is being made ready to be worshipped during the Great Tribulation.

Thanking you kindly, I am,

—A READER

It is a longstanding article of faith among the English that they are a subject race, their conquerors being the Scotch. If the fact is as alleged, it is certainly a conquest achieved against tremendous odds. A study of the census figures for 1931 shows that among a trifle under 40,000,000 people in England and Wales, the natives of Scotland are 366,000. It is less than one in a hundred. In Greater London there are something more than 100,000 North Britons, which would be approximately one in eighty or ninety.—New York Times.

MAJOR DOUGLAS NOT DISCUSSING

Stresses His Work for Government
Not Politics; Says He and Aberhart
Working to Same End

Major C. H. Douglas, arriving in Edmonton, says that he and William Aberhart are working toward the same ultimate objective. Discussing the Aberhart system, he said: "I have purposely avoided going into details of the Aberhart scheme as I realize he is creating a psychology and while we are both seeking the same ultimate end, it is not fair to criticize yet, although I do not agree with all the details of Mr. Aberhart's scheme." Asked if he had formulated a plan of procedure, he said that he had not. He wanted first to consult with the government, as he is employed as the servant of the Alberta Government.

Asked regarding the constitutional phase of applying his theories to Alberta, Major Douglas said this part was uncompleted. "My object in this investigation is to limit the expenses as much as possible and we will not go outside of Alberta until we find we cannot get what we want here. We will exhaust the possibilities of the legal resources here before we go outside the province for constitutional authority."

Questioned as to whether the scheme is in operation in any part of the world, he said not in entirety. Various aspects, however are in force in different parts of the world. Japan has used the idea of subsidies to ship exports at less than cost. The goods carrying scheme in Australia and Switzerland is to some extent a social credit voucher scheme. Major Douglas was not enthusiastic when asked regarding Mr. Aberhart's proposal to pay every adult $25 a month as a basic dividend.

"This is technically possible, but would result in a great deal of trench warfare," he said.—Morning Albertan.

BUCHAN ANECDOTES

(From Lethbridge Herald)

John Buchan, who is to be the next governor-general of Canada, like many famous fellow-Scots, is a son of the manse. He is a splendid raconteur, especially on Scots stories and these are among his best.

A Scottish soldier from the village of Rothiemurchus was asked where he was wounded during the Iraq campaign. He replied in broad Doric: "I was wounded about a mile on the Rothiemurchus side of Bagdad."

A staunch objector to union of the Scottish churches described the union as "unconstitutional, impracticable, illogical and absolutely idiotic, but I hae nae doot it's God's will."

KIRKCALDY NOTES

Miss Doris Lawrie spent the week end in Vulcan as the guest of Miss K. Craig.

Oscar Amundson was a visitor at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. J. Saunders for a few days last week.

The Kirkcaldy school board sat as a court of revision, Tuesday evening. Only one protest was filed by one of the elevator companies.

A very successful dance was held in the Long Coulee school, Friday evening. Proceeds were turned over to the piano fund.

Wheat seeding in this district is 60 per cent. completed in spite of the very disagreeable weather we have been subjected to during the last month.

The Kirkcaldy school board held their monthly meeting Wednesday evening. All trustees being in attendance. It was decided to furnish transportation for the children to the musical festival which is being held in High River, May 17.

A meeting of the Foreign Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Maisey Thursday afternoon, a good number being in attendance. A splendid lunch was served by the hostess at the end of the business meeting.

Sunday school services have been started again in the local schoolhouse, commencing at 11 a.m. each Sunday. These services are denominational. Adults and children alike are cordially invited to attend.

A well attended Social Credit meeting was held in the school, Thursday evening. Three delegates were appointed to attend the nominating convention which was to be held in Vulcan, Saturday, May 10. Delegates appointed were Messrs. Laing, W. Munro and L. Maisey.

A movement is on foot in this district to try and get a greater share of roads graded than has been dealt out in the past. Farmers in the surrounding district complain of the terrible state of the roads leading into this point and in numerous cases haul their wheat to other points, driving several miles out of their way, rather than come over deplorable roads. Farmers who live east of the gravel, who formerly drove to this point now take the gravel road to Vulcan or Champion, rather than traverse a mile of ungraded road and a bad hill, while residents in the Alston and districts west have the choice of good graded highways to Champion, Ensign or Vulcan. The residents of Kirkcaldy feel that they are being discriminated against and would respectfully ask the councillors who represent the surrounding district in the Municipal Districts of Harmony, Clear Lake and Royal, to give us a fair share of graded roads when allotting their grading program over their respective districts.

Prospects for Youth

The provincial treasurer is responsible for the statement that since 1930 more than $29,000,000 has been spent on relief in Manitoba, of which the province is responsible for $10,500,000 and the municipalities for $8,600,000, more than $19,000,000 for the community of approximately 700,000 persons, one-third of whom are in the city of Winnipeg. The end is not yet. Since this great sum has been borrowed the prospects for the youth of Manitoba are not at all pleasing. The depression will extend far into the next era of prosperity. PRESBYTERY SEES NEED FOR CHANGE

Meeting recently, the Calgary Presbytery of the United Church of Canada issued the following statement upon the social and economic issues now facing the people of Canada:

"The Calgary Presbytery views with grave concern the exploitation of human values in modern life, e.g.

"(1) The large proportion of our men and women forced to live on the bread of charity.

"(2) The thousands of our young people who can find nothing to do; no maintenance on which to provide homes of their own.

"We believe these are the fruits, directly and indirectly, of the present competitive, acquisitive social order, and that they can be removed in a system based on service rather than profit, in a planned and socialized economy, in which our natural resources and principal means of production and distribution shall be owned and administered in the interests of human welfare.

"We would urge upon our Conference to consider seriously these matters, and to make a strong pronouncement on the vital necessity of a change from the present economic order to a Christian order of society."

MARRIAGE MOYER—ANDREWS

A pretty wedding of interest to residents of the Vulcan district was solemnized at the first Baptist Church, Calgary, on Monday, May 6th, when Ellen Isabelle, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Andrews became the bride of Mr. William Duncan Moyer, Calgary. Rev. A. B. Archibald officiated at the ceremony.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore an ankle-length gown of ivory taffeta with bridal veil and matching accessories. She carried pink and white roses. Mrs. C. R. Goodridge, sister of the groom, attended as maid of honor. Mr. Frederick Thomas Andrews, twin brother of the bride, was groomsmen.

The ceremony was attended by relatives and immediate friends, and was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Moyer will reside in Calgary. Mrs. Moyer is well known in this district, having lived here with her parents for a number of years.

LIFE INSURANCE FOR PROTECTION

All over Canada this week is being observed as Life Insurance week and a special educational campaign is being conducted to call attention to the value of this agency of protection.

The institution of life insurance has had, and continues to have, a stabilizing influence on the life of the nation. Canada boasts some 3,500,000 policy holders, and the vast total of assets represent savings of a great proportion of the population.

In the last five years, it has paid more than eight billion dollars to policy holders and beneficiaries and of this sum more than three quarters has gone to living policy holders. These benefits have been realized not so much by the wealthy, as by those to whom the membership has meant thrift, saving and sacrifice to make old age secure.

The Canadian Life Insurance companies have maintained the continued confidence of the people during a most difficult period. In the tempests of the last five years, these companies have set in circulation liquid credit revolving at a rate of $500,000 a day.

In serving its policyholders, life insurance in Canada has not only contributed immensely to individual welfare but it has been a powerful factor in maintaining national stability. From the wider viewpoint, these citizens who have joined together to provide for their own financial future are, through their life insurance savings, the main lenders to governments and municipalities. These savings to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars have helped to develop Canada. Through life insurance investments they have given the farmer money to build homes and barns, to buy seed, to purchase implements and livestock, to harvest the crops.

They have extended transportation facilities by rail and water, built highways, paved streets, erected schools, constructed water, sewage and public utilities, provided money for all kinds of necessary federal, provincial and municipal undertakings. What life insurance policyholders' millions have meant in sustaining national life, in relieving the strain upon relief funds, can never be over-estimated.

ADVISES METHOD STRIP FARMING

Lethbridge Experimental Station Suggests Methods Most Effective

What is the best way to lay out a field for strip farming? This is a time ly question these days and particularly in view of the Act recently passed by the Provincial Government respecting the control of drifting.

Stripping must be first laid out on stubble land that would otherwise be all seeded or summer-fallow. To get a field into strips it is necessary to follow one-half of it and seed the other to grain. This necessitates seeding 80 acres in stubble for each 160 acres farmed where a two-year rotation is used and the total acreage consequently is increased to that extent the year stripping is introduced. With a three-year rotation, consisting of summer-fallow and two years of grain, stripping may be started without affecting the crop acreage.

Width of strips is an important point to first decide. The Act specifies strips not wider than 20 rods and in most instances strips will need to be narrower than this to give maximum protection. On very sandy soil or heavy clays which drift so readily, strips need to be as narrow as 10 rods or less. A number of farmers operating on soil of either these two extreme types are even using 5 rod strips to advantage. On the medium soils which are somewhat less susceptible to drifting, strips 13 1-3 rods or 16 rods wide are used by many successful farmers. A mistake frequently made has been to make the strips too wide at the start. This, the beginner in strip farming is urged to guard against. When made too wide for the type of soil farmed, the strips not only fail to provide adequate protection but when once laid out the strips usually cannot be reduced in width without considerable difficulty.

By using widths of either 5 rods, 10 rods, 13 1-3 rods, 16 rods or 20 rods, a section or quarter section is divided into strips of equal width. The width of 13 1-3 rods is frequently used in strip farming. Where a three year rotation, consisting of summer-fallow and two years of grain, is followed. Strips 13 1-3 rods wide run 12 to the half mile or 24 to the mile and therefore divide evenly by three to accommodate a three-year rotation.

Lethbridge district has been concerned over a coating of dirt all over the buildings, on an occasion when there was no Canadian dust storm. They figure it may be donation from Colorado travelling at a height of 15,000 feet and dropped over Lethbridge during a snow storm.

A GOOD CASE FOR LOW GRADE WHEAT

Wheat and Barley Mixture Bring Better Hog Finish Than Oat Rations

While the hog-feeding experiment conducted at the Sub-Station this past winter is not yet summarized, it seems to have demonstrated the difficulty of securing adequate finish with oats alone and to have made out a good case for low-grade wheat and-for barley as supplements to the oats ration. No. 6 wheat (Garnet) seems rather to have excelled No. 3 C. W. barley of the O.A.C. No. 21 variety. The oats-fed pigs grew well enough, developed plenty of length and were rather pleasing to look at, but lacked finish even as viewed at the farm. This was much more evident at the stockyards and on the rail. Pigs that were the making of selects yielded carcasses grading "bacon" and "butcher." The sides were limp, lustreless and inadequately covered with fat. If such is the case when first-class 2 C.W. oats are fed, how much more will it be when light, chaffy ones have to be used?

Tobacco producing areas in the province of British Columbia extend 25 miles northward from the international boundary, to the main line of the C.P.R. and include the districts of Keremos, Grand Forks, Oliver, Summerland, Kelowna, Winfield, Lavington, Vernon, Kamloops and Ashcroft. Less than 40 per cent. of Alberta seeding is done in comparison with 60 per cent at this time last year. The northern part of the province is farther behind than the south.

Two new wells will be commenced soon in Turner Valley, it was learned Monday. Model Oils, Limited, will drill a third well as close as possible to Royallite No. 26, large producer in the north end of the Valley. The Highwood-Sarcee company will drill a second well in the same section, in the south end of the field, as its present producer, the largest in the field.

STILL ROOM FOR HOG IMPROVEMENT

High River-Okotoks Constituency Markets Twelve Times Surplus in 1934 Over 1930

Hog surpluses marketed to stockyards and packing plants from the Provincial constituencies of High River-Okotoks, Nanton-Claresholm, and Little Bow in 1934 totalled 79,190 head grading 10.7 per cent selects and 35 per cent. bacon. There is still room for improvement in the above quality grading figures when it is remembered that last year on over a million hogs marketed from Alberta the official grading was 12.2 per cent. selects and 37.3 per cent. bacon. This area should be able to do as well as the average of the province as a whole.

High River-Okotoks surplus marketed in 1934 was twelve times the surplus marketed in 1930, while the percentage of selects went up from 3.4 per cent. to 13.6 per cent., and the percentage of bacons went up to 36.8 per cent., just double the percentage of bacons in 1930. Purchases under the Brood Sow policy of the Dominion Live Stock Branch at Alberta Stockyards, Calgary, have been heavy in this constituency. The sows are sold at cost price, bred if necessary, and when several farmers can take 20 sows a good boar is furnished without charge.

BRANT-ENSIGN SCOUT TROOP BEACON

Brant-Ensign Scout Troop King's Silver Jubilee beacon was carried out as planned May 6th at Brant under direction of Assistant Scoutmaster Rev. Bell.

Promptly at 8:30 p.m. the large gathering of Scouts, their relatives and friends was called to order by A. S. M. Bell who gave an inspiring address on the second Scout law, followed by the singing of God Save the King. The next event was the firing of the Royal Salute, twenty-one rockets by the Scouts which was very impressive.

Sharply at 9 p.m. the huge beacon was lit thereby forging another link in the beacon chain across Canada.

While the beacon burned brightly the Scout Mothers' Association in their very hospitable way served hot dogs, cocoa and coffee to the gathering. At the suggestion of Asst. Scoutmaster Rev. Bell, a collection was taken to be forwarded to Lady Beasborough toward the King George V Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund. Thereby bringing to a close a very memorable evening.

An Aberdonian had been invited to attend the funeral of a neighbor's third wife, and as he had attended the funerals of the first two, his own wife was surprised when he informed her that he had declined the invitation. She continued to press for a reason, so at last, after a great deal of hesitation, he told her: "Well, Mary," he said, "I feel a bit awkward to be accepting Brown's civilities when I never have anything of the sort to ask him back to."
